

Cain Where Is Your Brother?

By Jill Kemp

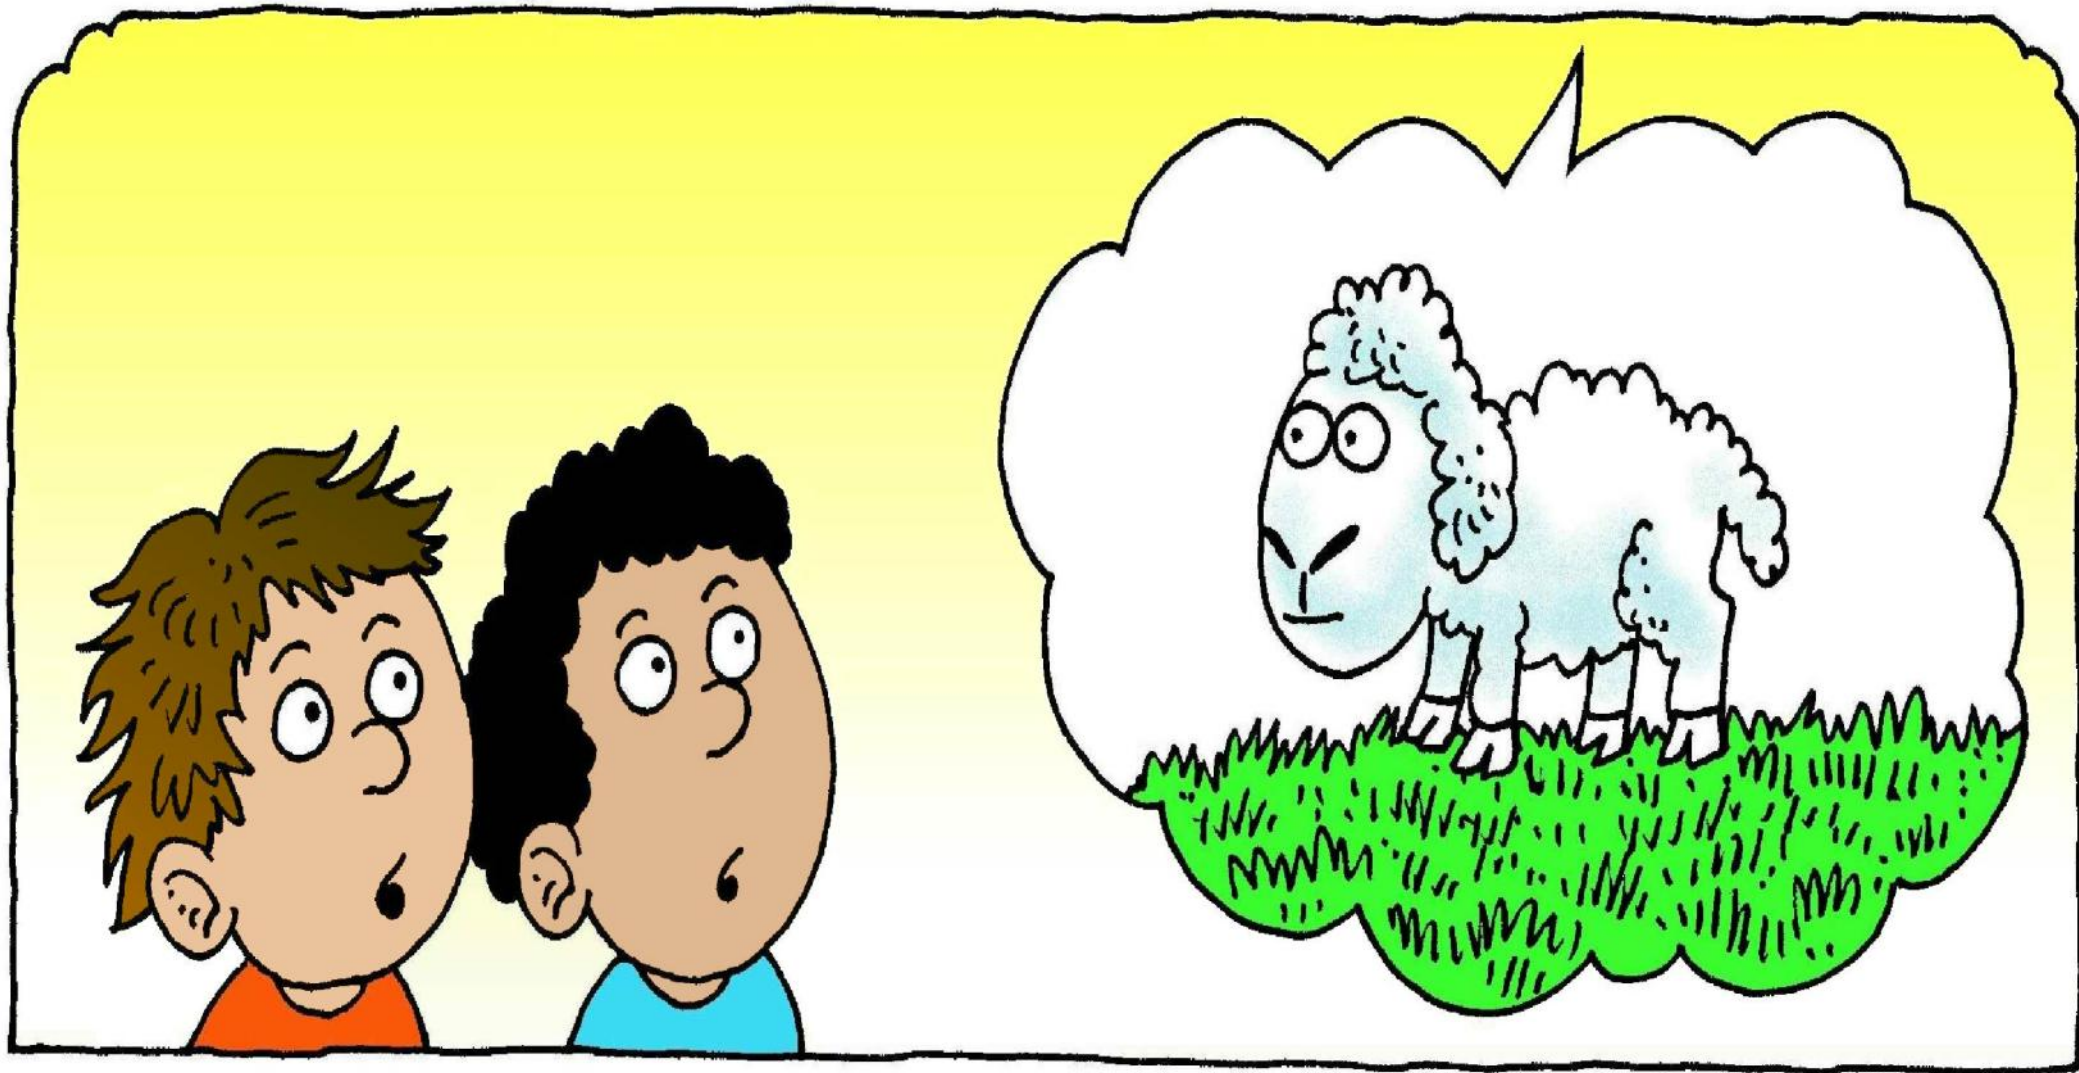

Illustrated by Richard Gunther

Don't be jealous when someone gets something better than you. Be glad for them!
It will be your turn another time.

Adam and Eve had two boys. Abel, the younger brother, loved his sheep, but he took his best lamb to give to God.

God saw how much Abel loved the lamb and that he had given the best he had
as a present to God.

Cain, the older brother, knew that God had been pleased with his younger brother's gift of a lamb.
It made him jealous of his brother.

“I work hard and God
should be pleased with me,”
he thought. “I am the best.
I will teach my brother a lesson.”

Cain was so angry that he hit his brother Abel very hard and he died. Cain thought that no one would ever know.

But God sees and knows everything.
“Where is your brother?” God asked Cain.
“Am I supposed to know where my brother is at every moment?” Cain replied.

Because Cain had done such a bad thing, God sent him away to live in another country. God doesn't want us to hurt each other.