The king ordered that Haman be killed. Now the Jews were safe and Queen Esther was safe too.
Her husband, the king, was very rich and powerful. Whatever he said, then that was the law.

“If you kill the Jews,” said the king, “then you will have killed my wife!” Haman was scared.
At the special meal, Queen Esther told her husband the king about Haman's plan. The king was very angry.

Some people in the kingdom of Persia wanted to kill all the Jews. One of these people was a man called Haman.
Haman thought up a clever plan. He would trick the king into making a law commanding that all Jews must die.

But Queen Esther was smart. When she found out about Haman’s plan she invited Haman to a special meal. He didn’t know that Esther was a Jew.
