Long ago, in the land of Persia,
lived a young queen called Esther.
She was beautiful and wise,
but she was also a Jew.

1

Her husband, the king,
was very rich and powerful.
Whatever he said,
then that was the law.

"If you kill the Jews," said the king, "then you will have killed my wife!"
Haman was scared.

3

Haman thought up a clever plan. He would trick the king into making a law commanding that all Jews must die.

But Queen Esther was smart. When she found out about Haman's plan she invited Haman to a special meal. He didn't know that Esther was a Jew.
