

And the very last time they all shouted
the great stone wall of Jericho fell right down!
The city was theirs not by a strong army fighting,
but by God's power.

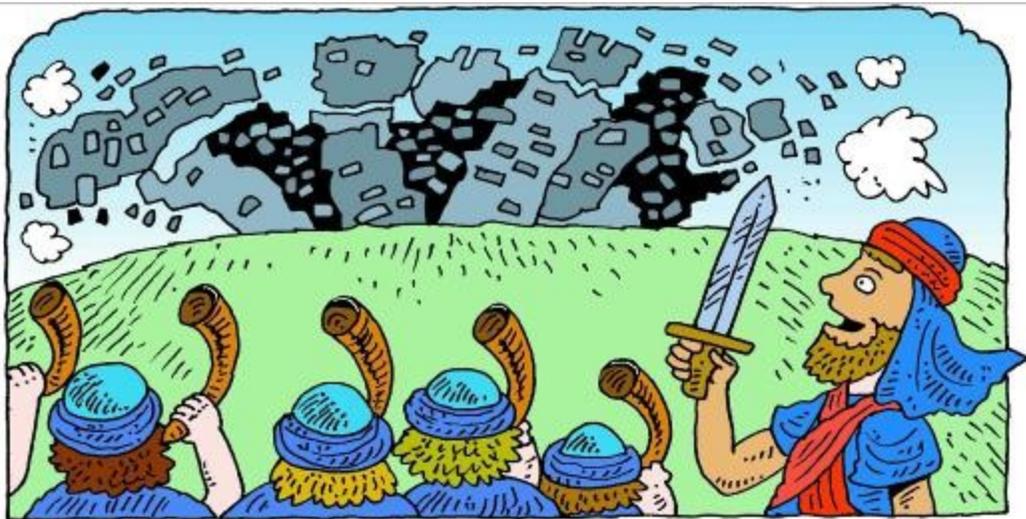

8

Joshua And The Battle Of Jericho

By Jill Kemp
Illustrated by Richard Gunther

1

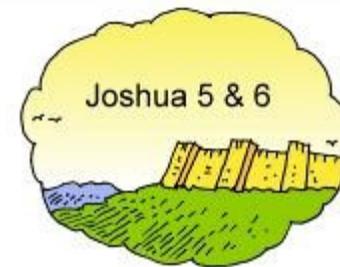

And the very last time they all shouted
the great stone wall of Jericho fell right down!
The city was theirs not by a strong army fighting,
but by God's power.

8

Joshua And The Battle Of Jericho

By Jill Kemp
Illustrated by Richard Gunther

1

Joshua was wondering how God would help him capture the great walled city of Jericho. He saw a man with a sword nearby. "Are you friend or enemy?" Joshua asked.

2

Then on the seventh day they walked right around the wall seven times that day, with the Priest blowing trumpets.

7

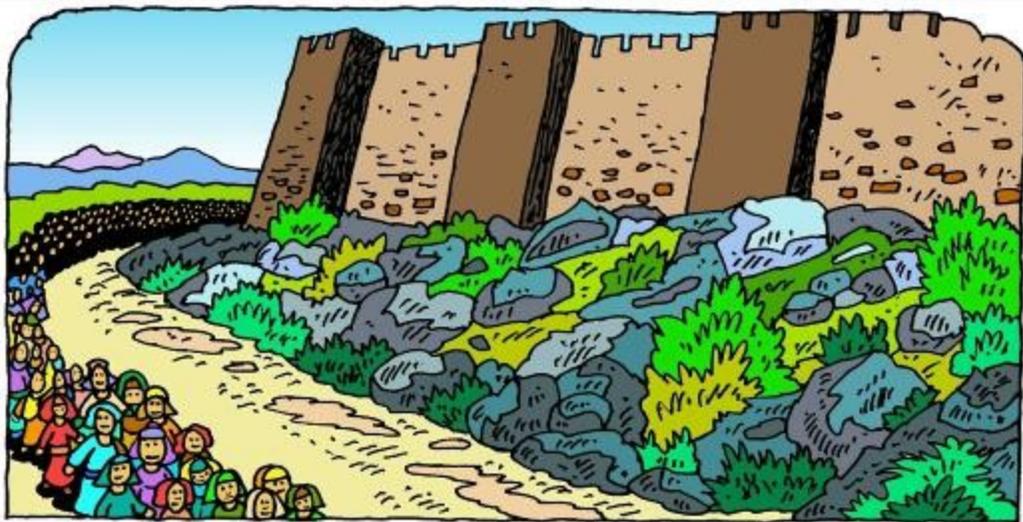

Joshua was wondering how God would help him capture the great walled city of Jericho. He saw a man with a sword nearby. "Are you friend or enemy?" Joshua asked.

2

Then, on the seventh day they walked right around the wall seven times that day, with the Priest blowing trumpets.

7

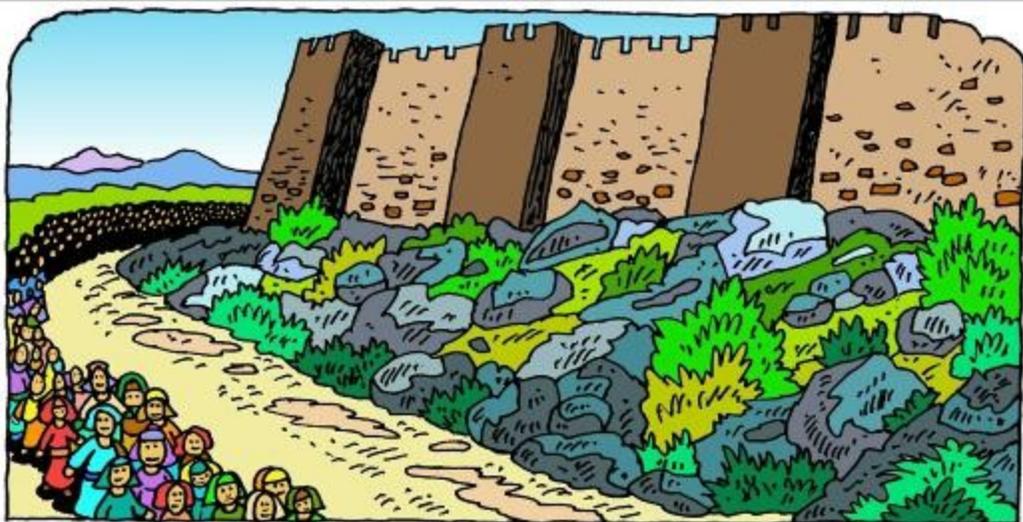

She saw the people of Israel
walk right around
the outside of the wall,
once every day, for six days.

6

"I am God's messenger," said the angel,
"And the Commander of God's army."
Joshua fell to his knees and said,
"Tell me what God wants me to do?"

3

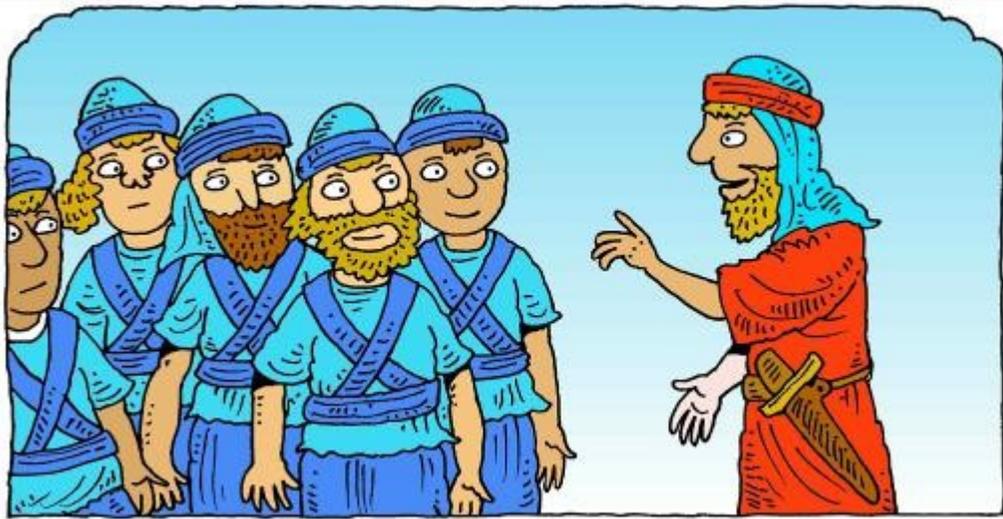

She saw the people of Israel
walk right around
the outside of the wall,
once every day, for six days.

6

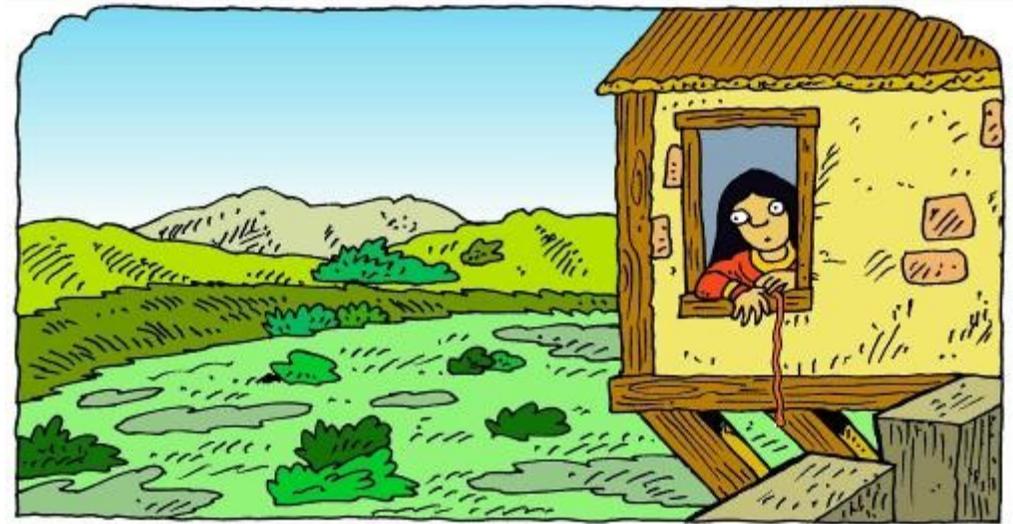

"I am God's messenger," said the angel,
"And the Commander of God's army."
Joshua fell to his knees and said,
"Tell me what God wants me to do?"

3

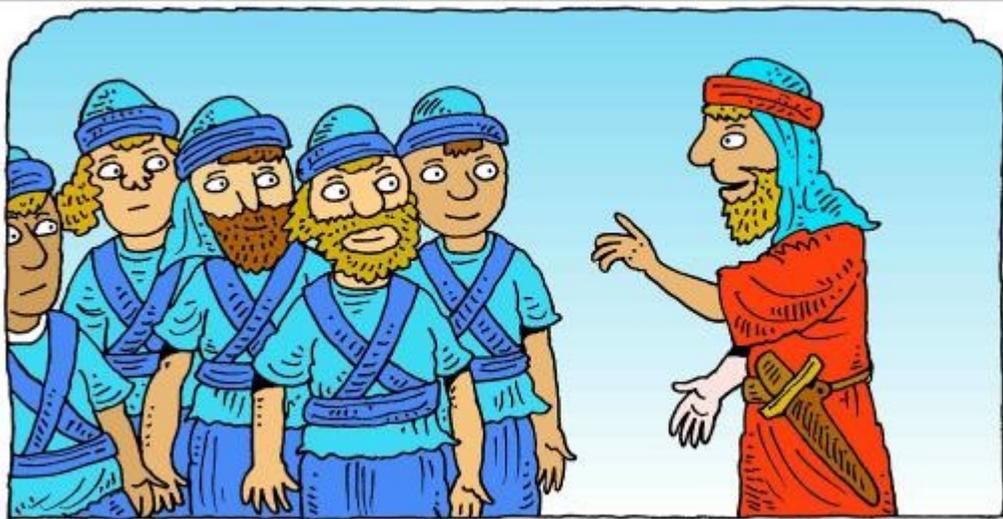

Joshua went and told his soldiers,
“God will give us the walled city of Jericho,
but we must do what He has said.
And if you find a red cord in a window, save Rahab.”

4

Inside the walled city of Jericho
Rahab watched and waited.
Joshua had promised to save her
and her family, when she hid the spies.

5

Joshua went and told his soldiers,
“God will give us the walled city of Jericho,
but we must do what He has said.
And if you find a red cord in a window, save Rahab.”

4

Inside the walled city of Jericho
Rahab watched and waited.
Joshua had promised to save her
and her family, when she hid the spies.

5