King Manasseh was a very bad king. He and the people of Judah worshiped idols and forgot the Laws God gave to Moses. In time, Josiah his grandson became king.

Josiah was only eight years old when he became the King of Judah. He was a good king. Eighteen years passed and he decided to repair the Temple in Jerusalem.

2

King Josiah gathered all the people into the Temple and read the Laws of Moses to them. King Josiah made a promise to God to rid his kingdom of idols and evil and to follow God's Laws.

King Josiah was very upset when he heard God's Laws and prayed for forgiveness. His people had forgotten the One True God. They prayed to idols and behaved badly.

6

He sent his servant to Hilkiah the High Priest to collect the donation money people gave the priests at the Temple door. The King needed the money to pay workmen to fix the Temple.
