

JESUS IS TAKEN TO THE HIGH PRIEST

By Jill Kemp
Illustrated by Richard Gunther

God's Law to Moses said that no one could be punished unless two people agreed about what they saw and heard. No two people could blame Jesus.

Judas Iscariot showed the High Priest's soldiers where to find Jesus. They arrested him, bullied and mocked him and treated him badly.

Then they took Jesus to the home of Annas the High Priest. The High Priests were jealous because so many people followed Jesus. They wanted Jesus to die.

Annas sent Jesus to the palace of Caiaphas, the High Priest who was in charge, to see if he could find something Jesus had done wrong, so they could get rid of him.

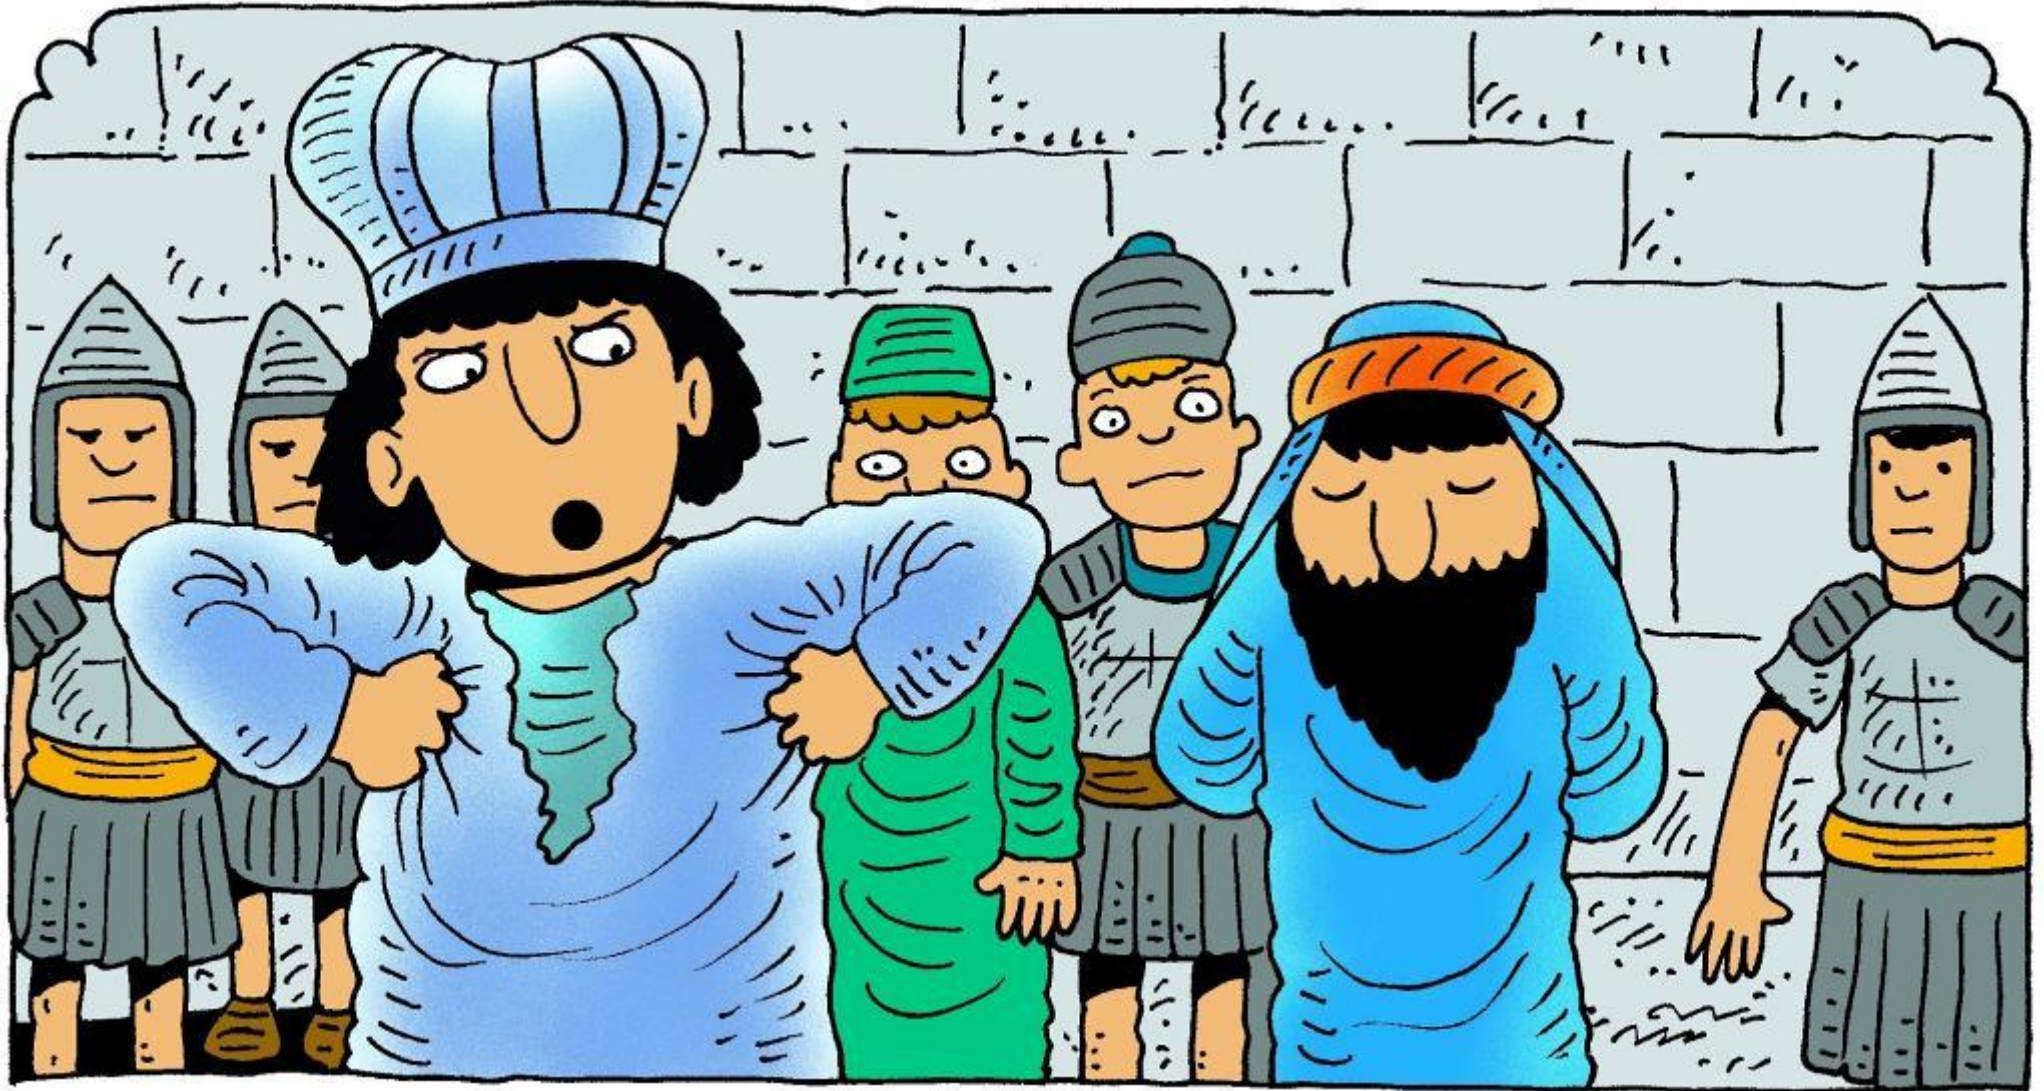

Peter and another one of his disciples were standing nearby and a man recognized Peter, but he pretended that he didn't know Jesus.

Caiaphas asked Jesus what he had been teaching. Jesus said, "I have always taught in places where anyone can hear me. Ask anyone who was there. They know what I said."

Although many people in the crowd accused Jesus of breaking God's Laws, none of them could agree on what he had done wrong.

Although many people in the crowd accused Jesus of breaking God's Laws, none of them could agree on what he had done wrong.