

“Ask and it will be given to you.
Search and you will find. If you
keep on knocking then the door will open - just don't give up,” Jesus said.

8

“Ask and it will be given to you.
Search and you will find. If you
keep on knocking then the door will open - just don't give up,” Jesus said.

8

Parable: THE MAN WHO NEVER GAVE UP

By Jill Kemp
Illustrated by Richard Gunther

1

Parable: THE MAN WHO NEVER GAVE UP

By Jill Kemp
Illustrated by Richard Gunther

1

“Late one night some unexpected visitors arrived at a man’s house. They were tired and very hungry, after walking a long way to his town.

2

Jesus said that the man got what he needed because he never gave up and that we should be like that man when we pray.

7

“Late one night some unexpected visitors arrived at a man’s house. They were tired and very hungry, after walking a long way to his town.

2

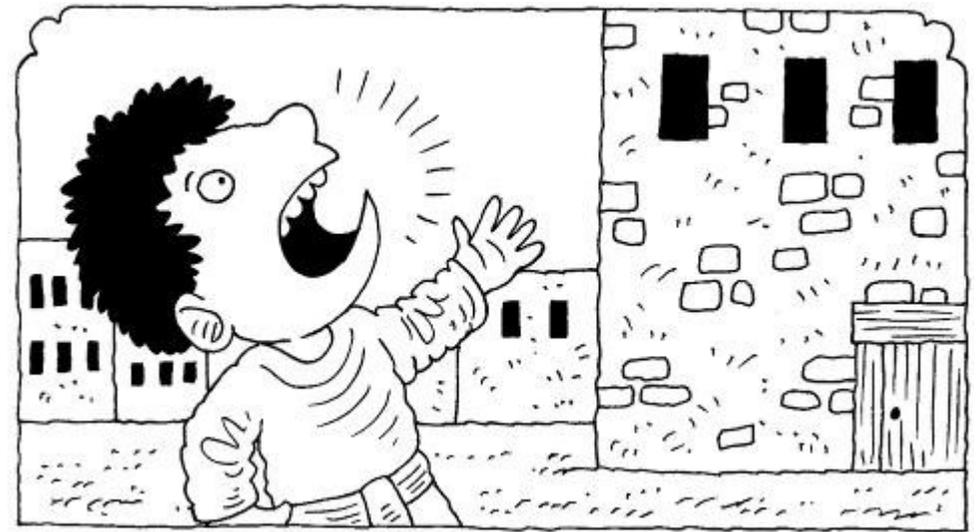

Jesus said that the man got what he needed because he never gave up and that we should be like that man when we pray.

7

Eventually the man in the house could take no more. He got out of his bed and went to the kitchen to give his friend the bread he asked for.”

6

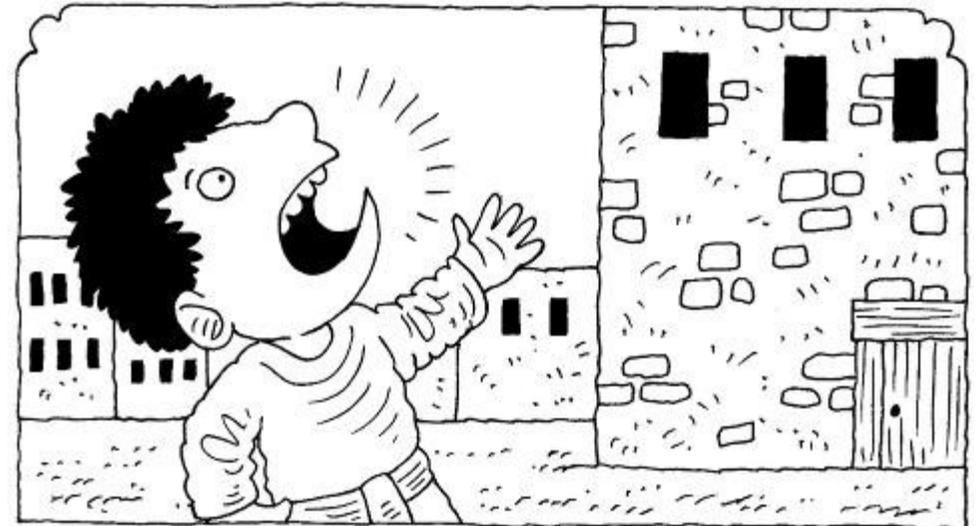

It was about midnight when the man went to borrow some bread from his friend. He knew he would already be in bed, but the man’s visitors needed something to eat.

3

Eventually the man in the house could take no more. He got out of his bed and went to the kitchen to give his friend the bread he asked for.”

6

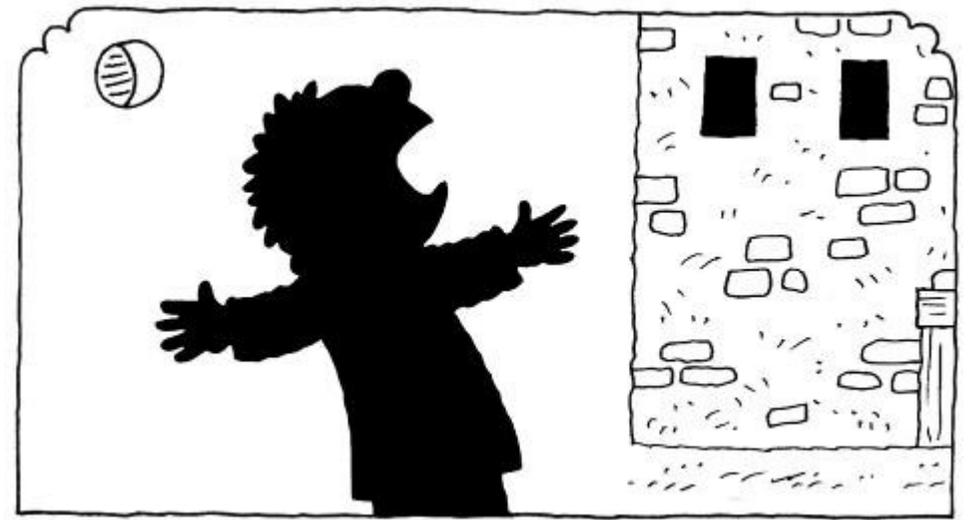

It was about midnight when the man went to borrow some bread from his friend. He knew he would already be in bed, but the man’s visitors needed something to eat.

3

His friend woke up when he heard the man shouting out for bread. "Go away," he called back, "the house is locked and we are all in bed. Come back tomorrow."

4

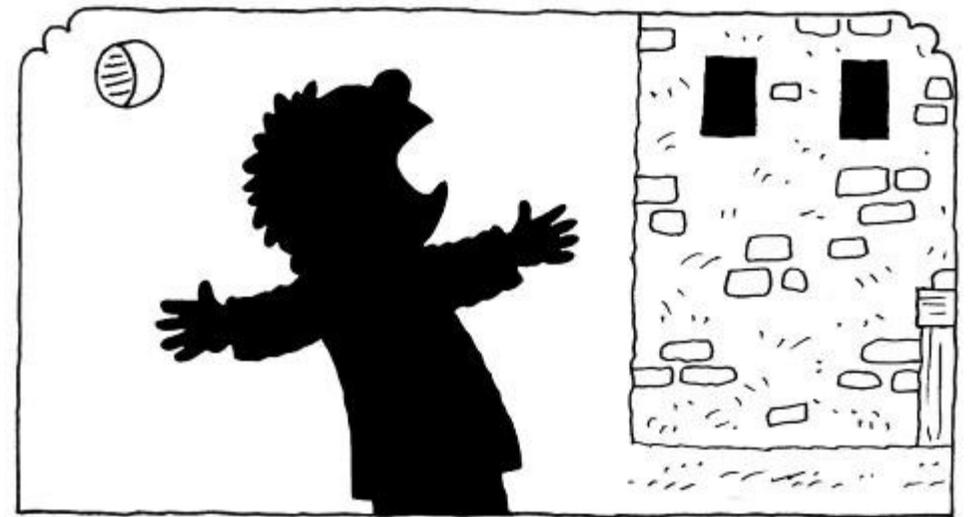

The man did not stop. He kept on calling to his friend. "I need three loaves of bread for my visitors," he yelled. "I won't go away until you give me some."

5

His friend woke up when he heard the man shouting out for bread. "Go away," he called back, "the house is locked and we are all in bed. Come back tomorrow."

4

The man did not stop. He kept on calling to his friend. "I need three loaves of bread for my visitors," he yelled. "I won't go away until you give me some."

5